Lecturer

Department of English,

Faculty of Languages & Literature

International Islamic University Islamabad, Pakistan

Email: sonia.farooq@iiu.edu.pk

I am a scholar of English Literature with a specialization in ecocriticism, environmental humanities, and South Asian fiction. I hold a PhD in English from Royal Holloway, University of London, where my research explored environmental concerns in the fiction of Uzma Aslam Khan. With over 15 years of teaching and academic experience at the International Islamic University Islamabad (IIUI), I have held various academic and administrative roles, including Alumni In-Charge at IIUI and Coordinator of the Critical Thinking Forum. My research interests span contemporary environmental writings, cultural studies, feminism, and comparative literature. I have presented my work internationally in the UK, USA, India, and beyond. A published author with Routledge, trainer, and frequent moderator at literary festivals and academic conferences, I bring a blend of scholarship, creative expression, and leadership to the academic and literary community.
