Implemented by Bahria University and International Islamic University Islamabad in partnership with United Nations Development Programme-UNDP

With support from United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and the American people, Bahria University and International Islamic University in collaboration with United Nations Development programme (UNDP) is imparting its incubation services to women from the North Waziristan, South Waziristan and Khyber Agency as part of the UNDP's FATA Economic Revitalization Project (FERP).

The Program aims to impart business training through provision of business incubation services to its talented pool from the regions. The programme will support women participants to test out new business ideas in the market by providing technical assistance in the form of mentoring, coaching and training; and reducing associated financial risk in the form of a grant.

Training will be conducted in Islamabad starting from 13 January 2020 and all the travel, boarding & lodging will be covered. Stipend will also be given upon successful participation of training for one month. Seed grants will be given to best Businesses after training.
