Introduction of the Conference

Keeping in view the physical and intellectual health of human beings, Allah the Almighty has declared all hygienic and healthy eatables as permissible and lawful (Ḥalāl), whereas all filthy and unhealthy eatable were declared as impermissible and unlawful (Ḥarām). It is an obvious reason that Muslim Jurists of all ages have conducted and demonstrated their study in articulating Shari'ah rulings on permissible (Ḥalāl) and impermissible (Ḥarām). In modern era, the trends in production and consumption of eatables and beverages have been drastically changed due to the agricultural, biological sciences and technological advancements.

On the other hand, International Market of Ḥalāl commodities has been emerging into a vast market trade in which Muslim and Non-Muslim countries are participating freely and actively. This international trade, according to one research, has reached up to three trillion US dollars; therefore, it is mandatory to discuss different aspects and dimensions of this emerging area by arranging an International conference. This becomes unavoidable especially when certain newly emerged issues and challenges in the field extensive research is required. No such conferences have been held in Pakistan, therefore; it is very important to organize a conference of this level and prestige to fill the gaps.

International Islamic University Islamabad is one of the prominent Institutions that focus on the enhancement of Islamic Sciences. It is playing a very vital role in spreading knowledge particularly towards Law, Shari'ah and Judiciary. Thus, the Faculty of Shari'ah & Law, International Islamic University Islamabad, Pakistan has decided to organize an International Conference in collaboration with International Islamic Fiqh Academy Jeddah, Saudi Arabia and Higher Education Commission Pakistan. In consultation with International Islamic Fiqh Academy Jeddah, the conference's topic has been finalized as, "Ḥalāl Food: Principles, Shari'ah Standards & Contemporary Issues".
