1 Introduction

This brochure gives information on the criteria, deadlines and procedures of the Netherlands Fellowship Programmes (NFP). It describes the application and selection procedures and lists the courses, programmes and activities for which these are valid.

Candidates who wish to apply for an NFP fellowship are advised to read all information carefully and take good notice of the criteria, deadlines and procedures. Please check our website www.nuffic.nl/nfp for the most current information.

1.1. General

The Netherlands Fellowship Programmes (NFP) are fellowship programmes initiated and fully funded by the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs under the budget for Development Cooperation.

Aim NFP

The overall aim of the NFP is to help alleviate qualitative and quantitative shortages of skilled manpower within a wide range of governmental, private and non-governmental organisations. This by offering fellowships to mid-career professionals to improve the capacity of their employing organisations. The need for training has to be evident within the context of an organisation. This implicates that candidates have to be nominated by their employers.

Applications without employer support are considered not eligible.

Target group

The NFP is targeted at mid-career professionals who are nationals of and working and living in one of the 60 NFP countries (see annex 4 for an overview). Candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa, women and members of priority groups and/or marginalised regions are specifically invited to apply for an NFP fellowship. This because 50% of the available fellowships will be awarded to females and 50% of the available budget will be awarded to candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa. Beside this, candidates from priority groups and/or marginalised regions (to be defined by the embassies) are explicitly invited to apply.

Country-specific priorities

Next to the general eligibility criteria an embassy or consulate may develop its own country-specific priorities. These reflect the preferences of the embassy or consulate for certain applications. These priorities can be of influence on the selection process. For these reasons, candidates are advised to check at the embassy or on the embassy's website if country-specific priorities apply.

NFP sub-programmes

The NFP offers the following options:

Individual fellowships for:

- master's degree programmes;
- short courses;
- PhD studies.

Subsidies for alumni activities:

- Refresher courses (for NFP, NPT, NICHE and MENA alumni);
- NAA start-up grants (for NFP alumni);
- Co-financing of NFP alumni activities.

For each of the sub-programmes a separate section in this brochure provides information about eligibility, application and selection procedures and deadlines.

Gender policy

The Dutch policy regarding development cooperation gives specific importance to gender and sexual & reproductive health and rights. The NFP gives attention to this gender policy by highlighting the extent to which gender is part of the courses and programmes on the NFP Course List. There are four categories:

1. The subject of the programme is gender-oriented (e.g. gender in the programme title);
2. The programme contains several compulsory modules dealing with gender dimensions;
3. Gender-oriented modules are available, but not compulsory. The programme content is not explicitly gender-oriented and no attention is paid to gender;
4. The subject of the programme is not gender-oriented. It is not possible to include gender-oriented modules.

The fellowship

An NFP fellowship is intended to supplement the salary that the fellowship holder must continue to receive (at least partially) during the study period. The allowance is considered to be a contribution towards the cost of living for one person, whether in the Netherlands or in another country. A fellowship holder can therefore be faced with additional expenses (for instance extra costs for housing). Fellowship holders are advised to check with the Dutch institution if this can be the case for them. It should be noted that NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

The fellowship can cover the costs of tuition fees, visas, travel, insurance and thesis research, as specified in the NFP Rules and regulations for fellowship holders. This can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. Different conditions may apply to e-learning courses or e-learning programmes. These conditions are also listed in the NFP Rules and Regulations.

An NFP fellowship is granted for the duration of the course or programme. Whilst the individual candidates are selected for a fellowship, the grants are awarded to the Dutch higher education institutions to enable the fellowship holders to pursue the chosen sub-programme.

There are restrictions to the total number of fellowships candidates can receive. Candidates are not eligible for a fellowship if a candidate applying for:

- an NFP master's degree fellowship has already received an NFP fellowship for a master's degree;
- an NFP PhD fellowship has already received an NFP-PhD fellowship;
- an NFP SC fellowship has already received two NFP SC fellowships or has, a year prior to the application already received an NFP SC fellowship.

In addition, a candidate employed by one of the following organisations is not eligible:

- a multinational corporation (for instance Shell, Unilever etc.) or
- a large national and/or commercial organisation or
- a bilateral donor organisation (for instance USAID, DFID, Danida, Sida, FinAid, AusAid, ADC, SwissAid etc.) or

- a multilateral donor organisation, (for instance a UN organisation, the World Bank, the IMF, Asian Development Bank, African Development Bank, IADB, etc.) or
- an international NGO (for instance civil society organisations, Oxfam, Plan, Care, etc.)

Regional programmes and courses

The NFP Course List also contains master's degree programmes and short courses that take place, either fully or partly, in one of the NFP countries, for example joint or double degree programmes. In these cases, the Dutch institution and its partner institution in the NFP country jointly deliver the programme. These programmes and courses are open to all candidates, as long as the programme/course is relevant to the candidate's employing organisation and country.

1.2 Parties involved

Ministry of Foreign Affairs

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs fully funds the Netherlands Fellowship Programmes under the development cooperation budget.

Netherlands embassies and consulates

The Netherlands embassies and consulates assess all applications for fellowships for master's degree programmes, short courses and PhD studies and can formulate specific recommendations for further processing. They apply the general eligibility criteria. In addition, they may define a policy with country-specific priorities appropriate to the local situation.

Nuffic

Nuffic is the Netherlands organisation for international cooperation in higher education¹. As an independent, non-profit organisation based in The Hague, the Netherlands, Nuffic supports internationalisation in higher education, research and professional education in the Netherlands and abroad, and helps to improve access to higher education worldwide.

The NFP programmes are managed and administered by Nuffic. Nuffic guides the candidate selection process for fellowships for master's degree programmes, short courses and PhD programmes. Nuffic drafts the lists of programmes and courses for which NFP fellowships can be used. Nuffic also selects candidates for PhD fellowships and evaluates proposals for refresher courses.

Dutch education institutions

The Dutch institutions involved in the NFP are higher education institutions or other organisations in the Netherlands specialising in transferring knowledge and skills at a post-secondary level. The master's degree programmes and short courses listed in this brochure and the PhD study programmes are all offered by Dutch institutions. These have been assessed on their capacity to receive and teach students or professionals from various backgrounds. The institutions assess whether candidates are academically qualified to take part in a particular programme, course or training. They administer the NFP fellowships for all four sub-programmes. They also arrange the logistics and provide guidance for fellowship holders. For all matters concerning their fellowship the fellowship holders must contact the relevant Dutch institution.

1.3 More information

Up-to-date information can be found at www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

Specific conditions might apply in different countries. Nuffic strongly advises candidates to check the website of the Netherlands embassy in their own country before they start the NFP application procedure.

A list of available websites of Netherlands embassies can be found in annex 2.

1. See www.nuffic.nl for detailed information about Nuffic and its mission, tasks and activities.

2 Fellowships for master's degree programmes

Fellowship application deadline 7 February 2012 and 1 May 2012

NFP fellowships can be obtained for a selected number of master's degree programmes. The Dutch higher education institutions offer many international master's degree programmes. Candidates can receive a postgraduate education and earn one of the following Dutch degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Science, or a Professional Master's degree. A Master of Arts or a Master of Science degree is an academic degree, usually awarded by traditional (research-oriented) universities on completion of a postgraduate research-oriented course of one to two years in duration. Professional Master's degrees are awarded by different types of higher education institutions that offer more professionally-oriented programmes. Professional master's degrees are usually of shorter duration than a research-oriented master's degree programme. The duration of the programmes varies between 9 and 24 months.

The list of master's degree programmes can be found at the end of this section on page 8.

Please note that this is a provisional list and that information is subject to change. You must regularly check the Nuffic website for the latest information: www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

2.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a master's degree programme must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' relevant work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate's salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position at the end of the fellowship period²;
- have been unconditionally admitted by a Dutch institution to one of the master's degree programmes on the course list 2012-2013. This means that the candidate must have met all the requirements set by the Dutch institution (see 2.2);
- not already have received an NFP master's degree fellowship;
- not be employed by:
 - a multinational corporation (for instance Shell, Unilever etc.) or
 - a large national and/or commercial organisation or
 - a bilateral donor organisation (for instance USAID, DFID, Danida, Sida, FinAid, AusAid, ADC, SwissAid etc.) or
 - multilateral donor organisation, (for instance a UN organisation, the World Bank, the IMF, Asian Development Bank, African Development Bank, IADB, etc.) or
 - international NGO's (for instance Oxfam, Plan, Care, etc.)
- have completed and submitted an NFP master's degree programme fellowship application including all the required documentation before the applicable NFP fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;

- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organisation and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organisation;
- be available for the entire period of the programme and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire programme;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way.

2.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the master's degree programme for which they would like an NFP fellowship.

Please note that the fellowship application procedure has two important types of deadlines:

1. the academic admission deadline;
2. the fellowship application deadline.

More information about these deadlines can be found below.

Obtaining academic admission to a master's degree programme

Candidates first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution that offers the master's degree programme of their choice. The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the candidate to the programme. Candidates will receive a letter from the institution informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the admission application process. A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship must have been unconditionally admitted to a Dutch institution for the course or programme for which the candidate applies for an NFP fellowship. This means that the candidate must have met all the academic and administrative requirements set by the Dutch institution.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic admission deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Dutch institution will accept applications from candidates who also wish to apply for an NFP fellowship.

The academic admission deadlines for admission to master's degree programmes vary per programme and can change throughout the year. For this reason, candidates are advised to contact the Dutch institution directly for up-to-date information. Occasionally, the Dutch institution's deadline for applying for admission to a programme is later than the NFP deadline for fellowship applications. Nevertheless, to be eligible for an NFP

2. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowance is considered to be a contribution towards the cost of living for the fellowship holder. A fellowship holder can therefore be faced with additional expenses (for instance extra costs for housing). Fellowship holders are advised to check with the Dutch institution if this can be the case for them. The allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the master's degree programme for which they would like an NFP fellowship at the time of the NFP fellowship applications deadline. On the master's degree programmes overview (section 2.4), the academic admission deadline is listed for each entry.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one master's degree programme per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one programme with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one of the short courses.

Applications have to be submitted through Scholarships Online (SOL). Through SOL candidates can apply for fellowships online and they can check the status of an application. Other parties such as the Dutch institutions, the embassies and consulates will use SOL to assess NFP fellowship applications.

SOL can be accessed through www.nuffic.nl/nfp. This page also contains more instructions about applying online.

What does an NFP master's degree programme fellowship application consist of?

- a completed online NFP fellowship application submitted via SOL³;
- an employer's statement nominating the candidate for an NFP fellowship;
- a copy of a valid official identity document;
- a Statement of Government Authority (if applicable⁴);
- a motivation on why you want to pursue this master's degree programme;
- a motivation on the relevance for your organisation (how will your organisation benefit from the master's degree programme you wish to follow?);
- a motivation on the relevance for your country (how will your country benefit from the master's degree programme you wish to follow?);
- a plan of action (how will you put your new skills and knowledge to work when you return to your employing organisation?)

For more information and formats of the requested documents visit www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

Fellowship application deadline

Two deadlines have been introduced for submitting fellowship applications for master's degree programmes. Fellowship applications for master's degree programmes must be submitted before the following fellowship application deadlines.

Academic admission deadline	SOL open for online applications	Fellowship application deadline
See section 2.4	1 November 2011	7 February 2011
	1 February 2012	1 May 2012
The deadlines for paper fellowship applications are always one month before the online application deadline. The paper fellowship application deadlines are: 1 January 2012 and 1 April 2012.

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The Dutch institution that offers the programme will indicate in Scholarships Online if the candidate has been admitted. Each application will be assessed against the eligibility criteria listed above and, if formulated, against the country-specific priorities.

2.3 Selection procedure

Both the Dutch institution and the embassy or consulate will assess the fellowship application. The Dutch institutions will focus on academic qualities while the embassies and consulates will look at the relevance of the application for the development of the employing organisation or country. If applicable, the application also needs to comply with country-specific priorities. These assessments will lead to a selection.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering part of the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees, to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the master's degree programme. They also administer the fellowships and give guidance to the fellowship holders.

The selection procedure has a very strict time frame. Between 10 to 16 weeks after the fellowship application deadline candidates have to respond to a availability request. Indicating availability means that if selected the candidate is still available for an NFP fellowship. The candidate needs to respond within 7 days after the request has been sent.

3. Those with insufficient access to the internet can submit a paper application. Paper application forms can be downloaded from the Nuffic website. They must be sent directly to Nuffic by post, including the required documents. Candidates must only apply for one fellowship per NFP sub-programme per fellowship application deadline. If a candidate submits two or more applications for the same NFP sub-programme to which the same fellowship application deadline applies, Nuffic will process the application that was submitted online or process the application that was received latest and destroy the excess application(s) without consideration.

4. A number of countries require a statement of the government before candidates can apply for an NFP fellowship. Please check with the Netherlands embassy if this applies to your country. If a government statement is required but not submitted together with the fellowship application the application is considered not eligible.

3 Fellowships for short courses

Fellowship application deadlines 7 February 2012, 1 May 2012 and 2 October 2012

NFP fellowships for short courses can be used for a number of selected courses and are offered by education institutions in the Netherlands. The institutions provide professional training at post-secondary level in several fields of study. The courses lead to a Dutch certificate or a diploma and their duration varies from two weeks to twelve months.

The list of short courses can be found at the end of this section on page 32. Please note that this is a provisional list and that information is subject to change. Please regularly check the Nuffic website for the latest information: www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

3.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a short course must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' relevant work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by their employer, who pledges to continue paying their salary and guarantees that they will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position at the end of the fellowship period⁵;
- have been unconditionally admitted by a Dutch institution to one of the short courses on the course list 2012-2013. This means that candidates must meet all the requirements set by the Dutch institution (see 3.2);
- not have received more than one NFP short course fellowships;
- not have received an NFP short course fellowship in the year prior to the fellowship application;
- not be employed by:
 - a multinational corporation (for instance Shell, Unilever etc.) or
 - a large national and/or commercial organisation or
 - a bilateral donor organisation (for instance USAID, DFID, Danida, Sida, FinAid, AusAid, ADC, SwissAid etc.) or
 - multilateral donor organisation, (for instance a UN organisation, the World Bank, the IMF, Asian Development Bank, African Development Bank, IADB, etc.) or
 - international NGO's (for instance Oxfam, Plan, Care, etc.)
- have completed and submitted an NFP short course fellowship application including all the required documentation before the applicable NFP fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organisation and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organisation;
- be available for the entire period of the course and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire course;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way.

3.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the short course for which they would like an NFP fellowship.

Please note that the fellowship application procedure has two important types of deadlines:

1. the academic admission deadline
2. the fellowship application deadline.

More information about these deadlines can be found below.

Obtaining academic admission to a short course

Candidates first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution that offers the short course of their choice.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the candidate to the short course. Candidates will receive a letter from the institution informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic admission process. A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship must have been unconditionally admitted to a Dutch institution for the course or programme for which the candidate applies for an NFP fellowship. This means that the candidate must have met all the academic and administrative requirements set by the Dutch institution.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to a Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic admission deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Dutch institution will accept applications from candidates who also wish to apply for an NFP fellowship.

The academic admission deadlines for admission to short courses vary per course and can change throughout the year. For this reason, candidates are advised to contact the Dutch institution directly for up-to-date information. Occasionally, the Dutch institution's deadline for applying for admission to a course is later than the NFP deadline for fellowship applications. Nevertheless, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the short course for which they would like to receive an NFP fellowship at the time of the NFP fellowship applications deadline. On the short courses overview (section 3.4), the academic admission deadline is listed for each entry.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one short course per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one course with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one course before applying for a fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a course in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid.

5. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, the NFP allowance is considered to be a contribution towards the cost of living for the fellowship holder. A fellowship holder can therefore be faced with additional expenses (for instance extra costs for housing). Fellowship holders are advised to check with the Dutch institution if this can be the case for them. The allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

Applications have to be submitted through Scholarships Online (SOL). Through SOL candidates can apply for fellowships online and they can check the status of an application. Other parties such as the Dutch institutions, the embassies and consulates will use SOL to add information about an NFP fellowship application. The embassies and consulates will also use SOL to assess NFP fellowship applications.

SOL can be accessed through www.nuffic.nl/nfp. This page also contains more instructions about applying online.

What does an NFP short courses fellowship application consist of?

- a completed online NFP fellowship application submitted via SOL⁶;
- an employer's statement nominating the candidate for an NFP fellowship;
- a copy of a valid official identity document;

Fellowship application deadline

Three deadlines have been introduced for submitting fellowship applications for short courses. Fellowship applications for short courses must be submitted before the following fellowship application deadlines.

Academic admission deadline	SOL open for online application	Fellowship application deadlines
See section 3.4	1 November 2011	7 February 2012
	1 February 2012	1 May 2012
	1 July 2012	2 October 2012
The deadlines for paper fellowship applications are always one month before the online application deadline. The paper fellowship application deadlines are: 1 January 2012, 1 April 2012 and 1 September 2012.

Section 3.4 consists of an overview of the course list 2012-13 for short courses and the applicable deadlines per starting date of a course (courses can have more than one starting date and more than one applicable deadline).

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The Dutch institution that offers the course will indicate in Scholarships Online if the candidate has been admitted. Each application will be assessed against the eligibility criteria listed above and, if formulated, against the country-specific priorities.

3.3 Selection procedure

Both the Dutch institution and the embassy or consulate will assess the fellowship application. The Dutch institutions will focus on academic qualities while the embassies and consulates will look at the relevance of the application for the development of the employing organisation or country. If applicable, the application also needs to comply with country-specific priorities. These assessments will lead to a selection.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering part of the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees, to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the master's degree programme. They also administer the fellowships and give guidance to the fellowship holders.

The selection procedure has a very strict time frame. Between 10 to 16 weeks after the fellowship application deadline candidates have to respond to an availability request. Indicating availability means that if selected the candidate is still available for an NFP fellowship. The candidate needs to respond within 7 days after the request has been sent.

6. Those with insufficient access to the internet can submit a paper application. Paper application forms can be downloaded from the Nuffic website. They must be sent directly to Nuffic by post, including the required documents. Candidates must only apply for one fellowship per NFP sub-programme per fellowship application deadline. If a candidate submits two or more applications for the same NFP sub-programme to which the same fellowship application deadline applies, Nuffic will process the application that was submitted online or process the application that was received latest and destroy the excess application(s) without consideration.

7. A number of countries require a statement of the government before candidates can apply for an NFP fellowship. Please check with the Netherlands embassy if this applies to your country. If a government statement is required but not submitted together with the fellowship application the application is considered not eligible.

Fellowship application deadline:	7 February 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university, in a discipline relevant to the programme and/or specialization chosen.
Professional requirements:	Several years of work experience is recommended.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Geophysics and Remote Sensing for Environmental Aspects of Engineering Geology (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	9 weeks
Next course begins:	11 March 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012

Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university in Earth sciences, environmental sciences, engineering geology, or other relevant disciplines.
Professional requirements:	Relevant work experience (industry, government, university, NGO) is recommended but not mandatory.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Geostatistics and Open-Source Statistical Computing (ITC)(DE) (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 weeks
Next course begins:	21 January 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 April 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc level; introductory university-level course in non-spatial statistics, computer literate.
Professional requirements:	None, but if present, can be used in final project.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ GIS Data Quality (ITC)(DE) (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 weeks
Next course begins:	11 March 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc level. Basic knowledge in GIS or Remote Sensing and mathematics.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ GIS Operation (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	12 weeks
Next course begins:	22 April 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	University entrance level in mathematics for all options. Basic knowledge on image data, map projections, data formats, databases.
Professional requirements:	Several years of work experience in relevant field is recommended.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Hyperspectral Remote Sensing (ITC)(DE) (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 weeks
Next course begins:	28 January 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 April 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc level; basic knowledge of remote sensing; interest in earth/life sciences, computer literate.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Introduction to Geoinformatics (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	12 weeks
Next course begins:	21 January 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 April 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2012
Educational requirements:	University entrance level in mathematics for all options.
Professional requirements:	Several years of work experience in relevant field is recommended.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Land Administration System (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	12 weeks
Next course begins:	18 February 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 April 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc in land related subject.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Large-Scale Process Modelling and Data Assimilation (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	3 weeks
Next course begins:	1 July 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc in a related field of study. Basic math, deep understanding of the hydrologic cycle and its processes/hydrologic optics and experience in quantitative remote sensing.
Professional requirements:	Basic understanding of mathematical analysis/statistics, of quantitative Earth Observation & modelling, programming skills & image processing skills.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Monitoring our changing planet using web-based processing techniques (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	3 weeks
Next course begins:	10 June 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc in a related field of study. Problem structuring, cognitive mapping, spatial data analysis tools and techniques, simulation and modelling, evaluation techniques.
Professional requirements:	Knowledge of GIS and spatial data analysis (tools and techniques).
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Multi-Hazard Risk Assessment (ITC)(DE) (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 weeks
Next course begins:	13 May 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university in Earth Sciences, Environmental sciences, engineering, planning, or other relevant discipline/
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Natural Hazard Modelling and Risk Assessment (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	9 weeks
Next course begins:	11 March 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university in earth sciences, environmental sciences, engineering, planning or other relevant field.
Professional requirements:	Work experience is recommended, but not mandatory, i.e. in environmental planning or mapping organizations, NGO's, DRM organizations, consulting companies, universities.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Natural Hazards & Disaster Risk Management, with Indian Institute for Remote Sensing (IIRS), Dehradun, India (ITC)(PG)

Takes (partly) place in:	India
Leading to:	Diploma
Course duration:	9 months
Next course begins:	24 September 2012
Academic application deadlines:	31 January 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	7 February 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university in earth sciences, environmental sciences, engineering, planning, or other relevant discipline. Attitude for independent study.
Professional requirements:	Work experience is recommended but not mandatory, i.e. in environmental, planning or mapping organizations, NGO's, DRM organizations, consulting companies, universities.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	12 weeks
Next course begins:	22 April 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012
Educational requirements:	University entrance level in mathematics for all options. Basic knowledge of surveying and mapping.
Professional requirements:	Several years of work experience in relevant field is recommended.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Remote Sensing and GIS for Earth Resources Exploration (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	18 weeks
Next course begins:	7 January 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 April 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university in earth sciences, geology, or other related disciplines (with college level algebra, chemistry and physics).
Professional requirements:	Some years of work experience in geological exploration is preferred but not mandatory; basic knowledge of Geographic Information Systems and Remote Sensing.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Remote Sensing and GIS for Geological Exploration (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	9 weeks
Next course begins:	7 January 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 April 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2012
Educational requirements:	BSc degree from a recognized university in earth sciences, geology, or other related disciplines (with college level algebra, chemistry and physics).
Professional requirements:	Some years of work experience in geological exploration is preferred but not mandatory; basic knowledge of GIS and remote sensing.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

■ Remote Sensing and GIS for Mineral Exploration (ITC)(SC)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	9 weeks
Next course begins:	11 March 2013
Academic application deadlines:	24 September 2012
Fellowship application deadline:	2 October 2012

4 Fellowships for PhD studies

PhD studies can be followed at 21 Dutch universities and institutes for international education. A list of these universities and institutes, together with their addresses and websites, is included at the end of this section.

- The PhD must be pursued according to a ‘sandwich’ or ‘picnic’ model, which means that at least a quarter of the PhD research will take place in the candidate’s home country;
- The maximum duration of a PhD fellowship is four years;
- The maximum NFP budget available for a PhD study is € 85,000. This amount is intended as a contribution towards the cost of living and to cover the costs of visas, travel, insurance, tuitionfee, thesis costs and so on, as specified in the NFP Rules and regulations for fellowship holders, which can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. PhD students are allowed to seek alternative sources of funding.

4.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a PhD degree programme must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years’ relevant work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate’s salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to an equivalent position after the termination of the fellowship period⁸;
- be unconditionally admitted to a Dutch institution as a PhD student. This means that the candidate must have met all the academic requirements set by the Dutch university or institution (see 4.2);
- not already have received an NFP PhD fellowship;
- not be employed by:
 - a multinational corporation (for instance Shell, Unilever etc.) or
 - a large national and/or commercial organisation or
 - a bilateral donor organisation (for instance USAID, DFID, Danida, Sida, FinAid, AusAid, ADC, SwissAid etc.) or
 - a multilateral donor organisation, (for instance a UN organisation, the World Bank, the IMF, Asian Development Bank, African Development Bank, IADB, etc.) or
 - an international NGO (for instance Oxfam, Plan, Care, etc.)
- have completed and submitted an NFP PhD fellowship application with all the required documentation before the NFP fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organisation and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organisation;
- be available full-time to pursue the PhD without interruption, and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire programme;

- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way.

4.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted as a PhD student by one of the Dutch institutions mentioned under section 4.4.

Obtaining admission as a PhD student

Candidates first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution of their choice. Admission requests must always be directed to the Dutch institution. Senior academic staff or a specific PhD committee decides if a candidate will be accepted. Usually, the admission decision is based on the research proposal submitted by the candidate.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the candidate as a PhD student. Candidates will receive a letter informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic admission process. A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship must have been unconditionally admitted to a Dutch institution for the course or programme for which the candidate applies for an NFP fellowship. This means that the candidate must have met all the academic and administrative requirements set by the Dutch institution.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution because these institutions need enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic admission deadline

The academic admission process for a PhD study is an individual track. Candidates who wish to be admitted as a PhD student have to check with the Dutch institution if an academic admission deadline applies.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

A candidate can apply for a PhD fellowship only after a research proposal has been agreed between the candidate and the Dutch institution. Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one PhD study per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one PhD study with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one of the PhD studies.

Applications have to be submitted through Scholarships Online (SOL). Through SOL candidates can apply for fellowships online and they can check the status of an application. Other parties such as the Dutch institutions, the embassies and consulates will use SOL to assess NFP fellowship applications.

SOL can be accessed through www.nuffic.nl/nfp. This page contains more instructions about applying online.

8. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowance is considered to be a contribution towards the cost of living for the fellowship holder. A fellowship holder can therefore be faced with additional expenses (for instance extra costs for housing). Fellowship holders are advised to check with the Dutch institution if this can be the case for them. The allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

What does an NFP PhD fellowship application consist of?

- a completed online NFP fellowship application submitted via SOL⁹;
- an employer's statement nominating the candidate for an NFP fellowship;
- a copy of a valid official identity document;
- a Statement of Government Authority (if applicable¹⁰);
- a motivation on why you wish to pursue this PhD study;
- a motivation on the relevance for your organisation (how will your organisation benefit from the research you wish to conduct?);
- a motivation on the relevance for your country (how will your country benefit from the research you wish to conduct?);
- a plan of action (how will you put your new skills and knowledge to work when you return to your employing organisation?).

For more information and formats of the requested documents visit www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

Fellowship application deadline

Two fellowship application deadlines have been introduced for submitting PhD fellowship applications.

Applications for fellowships for PhD studies starting in the academic year 2012-2013 must be submitted before the following fellowship application deadlines:

Academic admission deadline	SOL open for online application	Fellowship application deadlines
Not applicable	1 November 2011	7 February 2012
	1 July 2012	2 October 2012
The deadlines for paper fellowship applications are always one month before the online application deadline. The paper fellowship application deadlines are: 1 January 2012 and 1 September 2012.

Fellowship applications or additional documents received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The Dutch institution will indicate in Scholarships Online if the candidate has been admitted. Each application will be assessed against the eligibility criteria listed above and, if formulated, against the country-specific priorities.

4.3 Selection procedure

Nuffic selects the candidates who will receive PhD fellowships based on the relevance of the proposed research for the candidate's employing organisation and home country. Nuffic gives priority to applications which:

- propose that the PhD study be co-supervised by an institution in a developing country;
- have a proven link with other activities that are financed by the NFP or other Dutch government-funded activities;
- are submitted by female candidates;
- are submitted by candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa;

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant to the Dutch institution to cover the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees. The Dutch institutions will make the logistical arrangements and pay the fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the PhD study. The Dutch institution also administers the fellowships and gives guidance to the fellowship holders.

The selection procedure has a very strict time frame. Between 10 to 16 weeks after the fellowship application deadline candidates have to respond to an availability request. Indicating availability means that if selected the candidate is still available for an NFP fellowship. The candidate needs to respond within 7 days after the request has been sent.

9. Those with insufficient access to the internet can submit a paper application. Paper application forms can be downloaded from the Nuffic website. They must be sent directly to Nuffic by post, including the required documents. Candidates must only apply for one fellowship per NFP sub-programme per fellowship application deadline. If a candidate submits two or more applications for the same NFP sub-programme to which the same fellowship application deadline applies, Nuffic will process the application that was submitted online or process the application that was received latest and destroy the excess application(s) without consideration.

10. A number of countries require a statement of a government authority. Please check with the Netherlands embassy if this applies to your country. If a government statement is required but not submitted together with the fellowship application the application is considered not eligible.

5 Subsidies for NFP Alumni Activities

The NFP provides funds for refresher courses for NFP, NPT, NICHE and MENA alumni, as well as start-up grants for Netherlands Alumni Associations (NAAs) and grants to co-finance activities organised by Netherlands Alumni Associations.

NFP Alumni Activities entail the following subsidies:

For NFP, NPT, NICHE and MENA alumni:

- refresher courses.

For Netherlands Alumni Associations (NAAs):

- start-up subsidies;
- co-financing of activities organised by NAAs.

5.1 Refresher courses

The aim of refresher courses is to contribute to the institutional development of the employing organisations of NFP, NPT, NICHE and MENA alumni and to increase the impact and prolong the effect of earlier training funded under NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA. The refresher course may be conducted by either the Dutch organisation that provided the original training or course, or by a different Dutch institution qualified in the field of expertise concerned.

The proposed course must be in the same field of study as the original NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA -funded training.

The duration of a refresher course is usually two weeks. The maximum number of participants is 20. To a limited extent colleagues of NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA alumni can attend the refresher course. These colleagues must be direct colleagues of the NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA alumni working in the same organisation or organisational unit of the alumnus. Moreover one or two staff members of the partner institute of the Dutch institution providing the refresher course in the NFP country concerned are also allowed to attend the course.

The course must take place in one of the countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4).

5.2 Eligibility

Organisations in developing countries applying for subsidies for refresher courses must be situated in one of the countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4).

Participants of refresher courses must:

- be mid-career professionals with at least three years' work experience;
- be nationals of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA alumni, having completed any training or course funded by NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA at least two years prior to the planned starting date of the refresher course (see above);
- be employed in an area to which the refresher course will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organisation and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organisation;
- be available for the entire period of the course and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire course.

5.3 Application and selection procedure

Proposals for refresher courses must be submitted directly to Nuffic.

Organisations in developing countries, NFP, NPT, NICHE or MENA alumni or the Dutch organisation that will provide the course may submit proposals for refresher courses.

The format to be used for writing a proposal for a refresher course can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp and is also available from the Netherlands embassies and consulates.

Nuffic will select the refresher courses to be held in 2012 by assessing the proposals against the eligibility criteria as well as technical criteria of the project.

In the selection process, preference will be given to proposals for courses which:

- will be jointly implemented by a Dutch institution and an institution or organisation in the country or region concerned;
- guarantee that at least half of the participants will be female;
- have a clearly-demonstrated gender component;
- will take place in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Nuffic will inform the parties concerned about the outcome of the selection in January 2012 and award grants to the Dutch institutions accordingly.

Application deadline

Proposals for refresher courses to be held in 2012 must be submitted to Nuffic before 1 November 2011.

5.4 NAA start-up subsidy

A potential Netherlands Alumni Association (NAA) in an NFP country can apply to the NFP for a start-up subsidy. Any funding made available is primarily to be used to create the necessary infrastructure and to guarantee the basic conditions needed for a successful start.

The maximum amount of a start-up subsidy is € 3,000.

5.5 Eligibility

- Associations in one of the countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application can apply for the start-up subsidy;
- An association needs at least 20 members to be able to apply for a start-up subsidy;
- An NAA must have members from various Dutch institutions. At least 60% of the members must be NFP alumni;
- Only NAAs that are officially registered in accordance with the local rules and regulations can apply for a grant.

5.6 Application and selection procedure

Applications must be submitted by the governing board of an NAA, not by an individual member.

Associations must NOT send their application forms directly to Nuffic, but submit them to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country.

Associations can apply for a start-up subsidy by presenting a completed application form to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country, accompanied by the necessary documentation. The application form can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp and is also available from the Netherlands embassy or consulate. Some embassies require applications to be submitted in duplicate.

It should be noted that the total funding available for start-up subsidies is limited. This means that applications may be turned down even if they meet all the criteria.

Application deadline

There is no deadline for submission of applications for NAA start-up subsidies. Applications can be submitted throughout the year.

5.7 Co-financing of NFP alumni activities

A Netherlands Alumni Association in a country on the NFP country list valid at the time of application can apply for the co-financing of its activities. The maximum amount of a co-financing subsidy is € 5,000. At least 25% of the budget must come from other funds.

5.8 Eligibility

Co-financing requests must meet the following criteria:

- Only co-financing requests are considered, so other funds must be available;
- The activity must be an initiative of and for the benefit of NFP alumni;
- The activity must relate to the topic of a previously attended NFP course, to higher education in general or to the strengthening of a Netherlands Alumni Association (NAA). Requests for the co-financing of social events are not considered;
- At least 60% of the participants of the activity must be NFP alumni.

5.9 Application and selection procedure

The application must be submitted directly to Nuffic at least three months before the start of the activity.

Requests must include:

- a description of the activity and the benefit it will have for the NFP alumni involved;
- a specification of the group of NFP alumni that will be reached by this activity (names and countries, if available);
- a detailed budget of the activity with a clear indication of which part will be financed by NFP and which parts will be covered by other funds.

It should be noted that the amount of funding available for the co-financing of NFP alumni activities is limited. This means that applications may be turned down even if they meet all the criteria.

Application deadline

There is no deadline for submission of applications for co-financing of NFP alumni activities. Applications can be submitted throughout the year.

PhD	7 February 2012	2 October 2012

Paper application	Fellowship application deadlines
Master's degree programmes	1 January 2012	1 April 2012
Short courses	1 January 2012	1 April 2012	1 September 2012
PhD	1 January 2012	1 September 2012

Alumni activities

	Fellowship application deadlines
Refresher courses	1 November 2011
NAA start-up subsidies	Not applicable
Co-financing NFP alumni activities	Not applicable

NFP country list

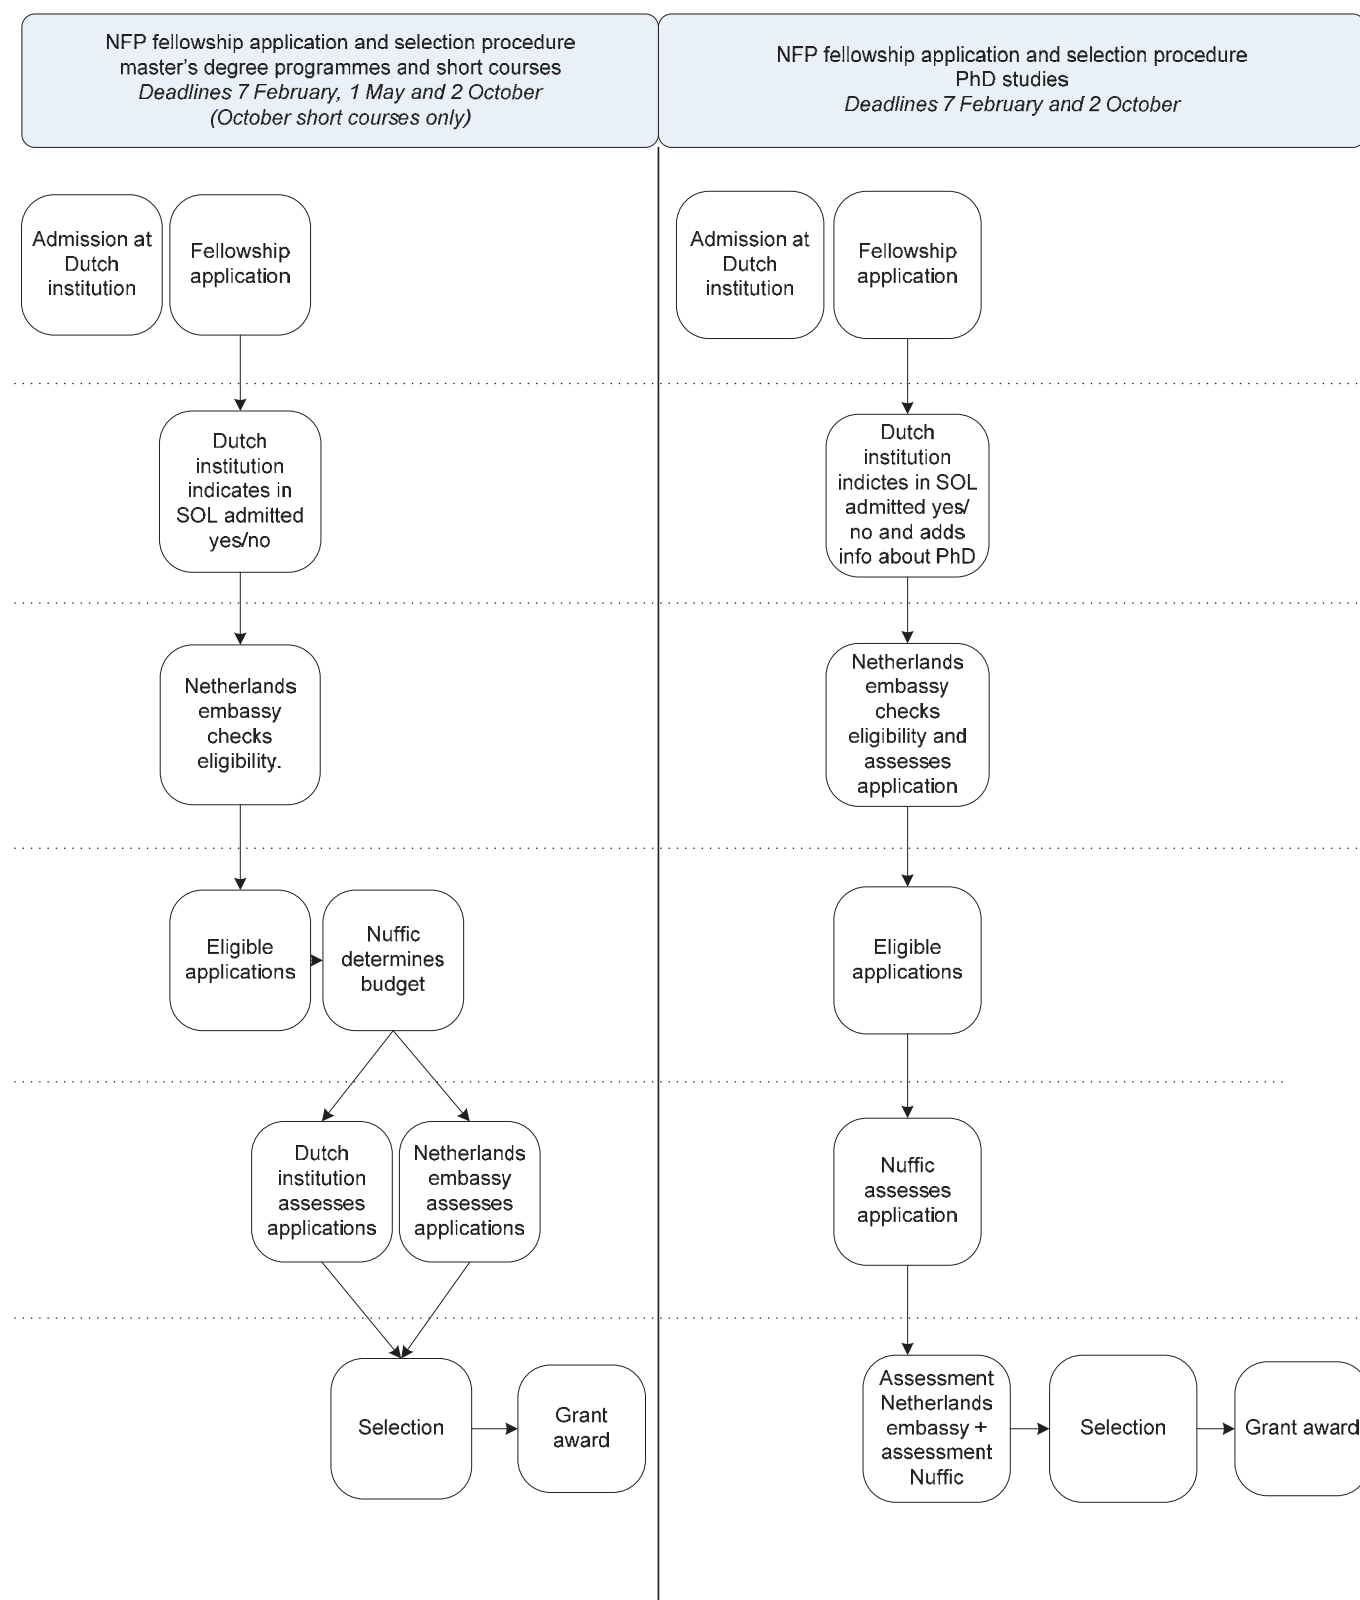

To be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates must be a national of one of the following countries:

Afghanistan	Eritrea	Nicaragua
Albania	Ethiopia	Nigeria
Armenia	Georgia	Pakistan
Autonomous Palestinian Authorities	Ghana	Peru
Bangladesh	Guatemala	Philippines
Benin	Guinea-Bissau	Rwanda
Bhutan	Honduras	Senegal
Bolivia	India	South Africa
Bosnia-Herzegovina	Indonesia	Sri Lanka
Brazil	Iran	Sudan
Burkina Faso	Ivory Coast *	Surinam
Burundi	Jordan	Tanzania
Cambodia	Kenya	Thailand
Cape Verde	Kosovo	Uganda
Colombia	Macedonia	Vietnam
Costa Rica	Mali	Yemen
Cuba	Moldova	Zambia
DR Congo	Mongolia	Zimbabwe
Ecuador	Mozambique
Egypt	Namibia
El Salvador	Nepal

* The Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands in Abidjan is closed. Originally the Netherlands Embassy in Accra would handle the NFP fellowship applications originating from Ivory Coast. Unfortunately this embassy is not in the position to verify documents from candidates from Ivory Coast. For the time being it is therefore not possible for people from Ivory Coast to apply for the NFP.

For some countries applications are assessed by the Netherlands embassy or consulate in a different country:

Armenia	via Georgia
Cambodia	via Thailand
Cape Verde	via Senegal
El Salvador	via Costa Rica
Guinea-Bissau	via Senegal
Honduras	via Costa Rica
Moldova	via Ukraine
Mongolia	via China
